Learn it - Persuasive letters

Today, you are going to be writing a letter to Magpie from Dog, persuading her to NOT leave with Fox.

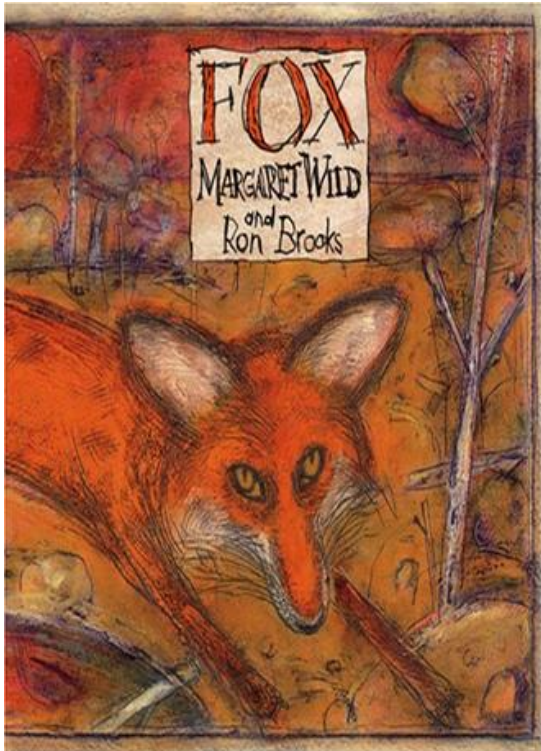

You are going to pull in all your learning from this week's Guided Reading and English lessons (persuasive features, emotive language, imperative verbs) to persuade Magpie to stay with you (Dog).

You are going to need to really focus on your vocabulary choices (up-level) and be a little bit dramatic and exaggerate a little too!

Let's have a look!

Please don't go, I will be really sad if you do.

Is this persuasive? Not really.

I am begging you, please don't abandon me. I will be truly devastated if you leave me.

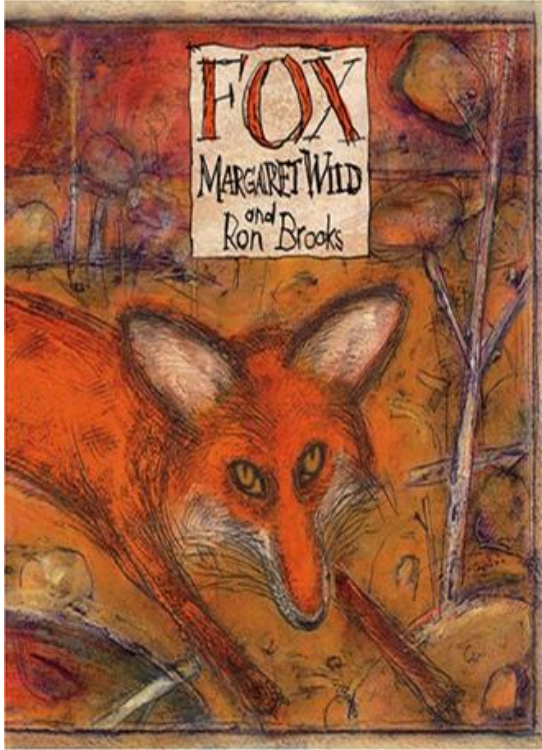

Is this persuasive? Yes!

What's the difference?

Practice It - Persuasive letters

You have two minutes to look at the sentence below and make it more persuasive. Use your emotive language and imperative verbs.

If you leave with Fox, I will be lonely.

If you throw our friendship away for him, I will feel so deserted and empty that I will never again leave this cave again!

Plenary: Persuasive letters

Persuasive letters - tick or fix:

- Emotive language creates an emotional response in the reader
- Imperative verbs are words such as stop, need, must
- Evidence means take information from the story to support your work

Apply it – Character comparison

Using the key ideas we have just discussed, you are now going to complete the independent task in assignments, labelled 28 Jan English.

For this task, you will be using images to create persuasive paragraphs using emotive language and imperative verbs. Please choose the chilli task you would normally pick at school.

You will be placed into breakout rooms so that you can discuss your task with an adult. Please open your task, read it and ask any questions you have.

You will only be able to leave your breakout rooms if your adult gives you permission.
