

Remote Learning

This session will begin at 09:00 am

Turn your camera and microphone off please
Have your pen, pencil and working paper ready

Wednesday 10th February 2021

When you see this guy, you need to read the information on the screen yourself

Guided Reading

A test of friendship

When you see this guy, you need to stop and complete the task

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

Yesterday we discussed what a friendship is and what makes a good/bad friend.

Can you remember what a friendship is?

What is a good friendship? Bad friendship?

Today we are looking at what a test of friendship is and how we may overcome it.

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

A test of friendship is an event that challenges a friendship

They could end a friendship, strengthen it, or cause short term issues that can be resolved

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

Jade and Martha decided to go to the cinema together during half term. They agree that since Jade had paid for the tickets, Martha will buy the snacks. However, on the day of the cinema trip Martha doesn't turn up. She leaves Jade standing alone outside of the cinema, having spent all of her pocket money on the tickets. When they go back to school Martha apologises and gives Jade the money for her ticket. She explains that she had gotten sick the day before and lost her phone so couldn't let her know.

Jade forgives Martha and the girls decide to have a Disney film day at Jade's house at the weekend.

What is the test of their friendship?

How do they overcome it?

Would you forgive Martha?

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

Aaron likes basketball, whilst Josh likes skateboarding. They are best friends and always spend their weekends together in the park. One weekend Josh tells Aaron that he can't go to the park because he needs to go and visit his nan. Instead of doing that he goes to the new skatepark that opened by his house, with some other friends from school. Josh begins to do this every weekend, and each time gives Aaron a different reason for not going to the park. After 6 weeks Aaron confronts his friend and starts yelling at him. Josh ignores this and walks away.

What is the test / challenge that they face?

How do they deal with the challenge?

Would you forgive Josh?

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

Captain America and Iron Man had always been on the same team and worked together to save the world from aliens and villains. They had battled gods and creatures from other galaxies, but never had they faced a foe more lethal or terrifying than they did that day. Captain America believed that the Avengers should have control over the missions they took part in, whilst Iron Man argued they should have rules. The heroes split their team with this disagreement and caused a disastrous battle that endangered the lives of each other and civilians.

After weeks of constant battling and numerous life-threatening injuries the friends finally came to an agreement. They would chose their battles, but if they were desperately needed, they were to follow commands

What was the test of friendship?

How did they overcome it?

Would you have done the same thing?

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

Micah and Eliza had been in the same class since they were four. They had always been close and spent much of their childhood together, playing games and learning. Micah has been feeling distraught recently as lockdown has meant that he hasn't been able to see or talk to Eliza for over a year. They tried to meet up at the park but the gates were locked, so they had to go home. Eliza begs her mum to take her to the high street so that she and her friend could finally meet for lunch. Eliza and Micah's parents agree to allow them to meet in town and the children are overjoyed that they can see their best friend.

What is the test of their friendship?

How did they overcome it?

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

Jace and Lara have been friends for many years. They grew up together and now raise their children in their identical houses opposite the huge, yellow fields of blossoming sunflowers. Jace's daughter was terrifyingly fast and could always be seen running between the towering flowers, whilst Lara's son was a quiet soul who preferred reading about the plants that surrounded him. Jace's daughter dragged her friend through the fields one day as part of a game of hide and seek. It wasn't long before he was lost in the unfamiliar stems and unable to find his way home. The young girl raced home without saying a word to her friends mum. It wasn't until dinner time came and he still hadn't come home that she began to feel bad and wandered out into the sunflowers to save him. He was so delighted to see her that he immediately forgave her for leaving and ran inside to tell his mum about how he won hide and seek, and found a wonderful new reading spot.

How is their friendship tested?

How do they overcome it?

Would you forgive your friends if they did that to you?

LI: I will be able to identify and analyse a test of friendship

Plenary:

Friendship – tick or fix:

- A test of friendship is an event that could end a friendship
- Good friendships are never tested
- We can always overcome a test of friendship