Harry's name got pulled out of the goblet of fire after the other tri-wizard champions had been selected. His best friend Ron questioned how Harry could have entered his name into the competition, and especially how he could have done it without telling him. He felt betrayed by Harry, so called him names and refused to speak to him for weeks.

Jemma and Leo have been friends since Reception. They do everything together. They walk to school together, go for bike rides after school, do their homework in Jemma's kitchen and play on Leo's iPad together at the weekend. However, one day Leo decides that he would rather be friends with the year 6's because they have cooler birthday parties and play football at lunchtime. He starts being a terrible person towards Jemma and talks about her behind her back. When he sees her crying one day at lunchtime Leo starts laughing and taunting her.

Plenary:

Friendships – tick or fix:

- A good friendship is one where you trust each other.
- A bad friendship is one where you compromise.
- We know if a friendship is good or bad by analysing individuals actions.
